COURSE NUMBERING SYSTEM AT UC BERKELEY

Courses are numbered as follows:

#1-99: Lower Division courses. Appropriate for first and second year students, or for subjects you have not taken before.

#100-199: Upper Division courses. Appropriate for third and fourth year students, especially in your major or area of study.

#200 and higher: Graduate courses. These courses are reserved for UC Berkeley students in their masters and doctoral programs. You must have permission from the instructor and/or department in order to enroll in a graduate course. It is extremely rare that BISP students will take graduate courses.

☆ Space may be limited in these departments during the Fall and Spring semesters.

✎ An additional application is required from students in order to enroll in courses.

◇ Auditions may be required during the week prior to or the first week of instruction

^ Students who wish to take courses in Environmental Economics and Policy must get permission from BISP staff.

△ Students wishing to take Economics courses must have already completed intermediate Microeconomic theory and Macroeconomic theory at their home institution prior to coming to UC Berkeley. Visiting students are not able to take Introductory Economics (Econ 1, 2, or C3), Microeconomics (Econ 100A or 101A), Macroeconomics (Econ 100B or 101B), or Econometrics (Econ 140 or 141) at UC Berkeley.
